CLASS SONG

By--Lawson Barber

We have reached the parting af the way.
Tamarraw we will face a new day
Ta live a new life on our own
Far our schaal days have past and gone.

This parting will fill some eyes with tears
Far we have been together far twelve years,
And now we know that we must part
But this memory will never leave our hearts.

We will never farget old Goldston High.
Our fandest memories will stay there,
And when our hair turns into gray
This parting will seem like yesterday.

Tanight we will say again,
"Goad-bye" to teachers and our friends
For tomorrow we will be gone,
Goad-bye to you all, and so long.

MRS. SUE E. PULVER, Sponsor

Last Will and Testament

We, the Goldston Senior Class of 1957, having reached the last steps of our high school education, find that during the past twelve years we have accumulated many talents, features, and priceless possessions, now being of soundproof minds we do hereby dispose of these as follows:

ARTICLE I

Juniors, to you we leave our ability to slide through English. We hope you survive!

Sophomores, to you we leave our gift for breaking in chow line and getting away with it.

Freshmen, to you we leave our knowledge and "know how" so that your high school days will be much smoother.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Clayton, our principal, we leave our gratitude and deep appreciation for his help and understanding during our crucial moments.

To Mrs. Pulver, we leave our English books and hopes for a more ambitious English class.

To Mrs. Stephenson, we leave our thanks for being an inspiring and understanding teacher during our times of need.

To Mrs. Phillips, we leave our thanks for her patience in teaching us typing.

To Mr. Andrew, we leave kind thoughts for his patience in helping us solve our difficult problems.

To Mr. Williford, we leave hopes that next years Seniors won't be as bad as these.

To Mr. Smith, we leave our appreciation for his help and guidance in our sports, especially basketball.

ARTICLE III

I, Lawson Barber, leave my reserved seat in Mr. Clayton's office to Lewis Dowdy. Don't let it get cold, Lewis.

I, Kenneth Beasley, leave my ability to get along with people to Larry Miller.

I, Shelby Bright, leave my gift of gab to Gracie Caviness.

I, Jerry Campbell, leave my bus to J. C. Hart.

I, Virginia Caudle, leave my job as bell ringer to my sister, Jane. Get 'em to class on time.

I, Ronald Causey, leave my position as co-captain of football to Paul Owen.

I, Rosa Caviness, leave my tomboyish ways to Ann Woolover.

I, Barbara Crissman, leave my settled ways to Rebecca Cheek.

I, William Elkins, leave my place in the Beta Club to Rayvon King.

I, Johnny Gaines, leave my big smile to Johnny Hilliard.

I, Joyce Gaines, leave my personality to Judy Thames, my cuteness I will carry with me.

I, Max Gaines, leave my position as co-captain of basketball to Billy Murchison, my laziness I will carry with me.

I, Verneita Gaines, leave my ability to take life as it comes with a smile to Sue Hefner.

I, Fisher Hamer, leave my ability to attract girls to Wesley Hart.

I, Celia Herron, leave my position as co-captain of basketball to Betty Lou Wilson.

I, Nancy Oldham, leave my perfect figure to Kay Elkins, but my red hair I will keep for myself.

I, Camilla Gilliland, leave my place as President of Student Body to Barbara Jourdan. My ability to have a husband goes with me.

I, Jimmy Pilkington, leave my bus to Wayne Elkins.

I, Larry Phillips, leave my "cool cat" ways to J. B. Gilliland.

I, Wayne Phillips, leave my "best all roundness" to Don Oldham.

I, Frances Seagroves, leave my slow, but sure, ways to Joyce Hancock.

I, Jane Tysor, leave my place as Most Athletic to Norma Jean Caudle.

I, Dorothy Webster, leave my flirty ways to Ann "Gulf" Phillips.

I, Faydene Wilkie, leave my place in the lunch room to Peggy Hart.

I, Virginia Willette, leave my position as Co-Editor of the Gold-Stone to Janice Graham, my silly giggles I will carry with me.

I, Bill Wicker, leave my title as Best Physique to Gene Barber.

Prophecy

One winter evening in 1967 I was sitting by the fire, with nothing to do except use each little spark as a crystal ball. I began gazing into them, and in each one I saw one of my classmates of good ole '57.

First, I saw Lawson Barber, gaining popularity as another Max Wiseman and a star of "The Grand Ole Opry."

I found Camilla Gilliland still dreaming of a new home, but I saw no little Gillilands.

Next was Kenneth Beasley, owner of a dairy farm, and busy milking thirteen cows.

Barbara Crissman now appears a farmer's wife, who is longing for a new pushbutton Plymouth.

Jimmy Pilkington followed. He was still trying to find a Ford that would out run his '48 Chevrolet.

Next, I saw Jerry Campbell who has become a very prosperous farmer. He's discovered string beans that don't have strings.

Shelby Bright came next. She was still wondering whether or not she should take that job in New Jersey.

Ronald Causey then came into view dressed in campus "casuals." He is still trying to get through college exams and become a basketball coach.

William Elkins was seen trying to move in with the girl next door.

Why, there was Nancy Oldham still working in Mack's 5-10-25c store.

Next was Johnny Gaines, married, father of three children and proud owner of the Lincoln and Mercury Company.

Frances Seagroves and her husband skate into view next. They are the owners of the new skating rink in Goldston.

Next I saw Dorothy Webster trying to decide which one among her soldier friends she wants to marry.

Next in line was Fisher Hamer, a very busy man working in Charlotte so he can support his wife and two kids.

Virginia Caudle appeared, bent over a desk, still striving for that college degree so she can be an English teacher. Wonder if she'll come back to Goldston High?

Why! There was Larry Phillips, the brain of the senior class of '57. He's now the principal of the new consolidated school of Goldston.

Next I saw Jane Tysor as a wonderful little housewife and the mother of a set of twins and a set of triplets, living on "Red Hill."

Bill Wicker zoomed into sight. He is now a stock car racer at the Indianapolis race track in Indiana.

Celia Herron jumped into view. She is now a great athlete in college, hoping to win the championship basketball trophy before long.

I saw next Wayne Phillips, now living on the farm, practicing what he learned in agriculture under C. O. Williford.

Wait! There was a spark that was not too clear. Why, it was Rosa Caviness trying to get her husband to help with the dirty dishes.

And then I saw Faydene Wilkie living in California, working in an office as a private secretary.

What a bright crystal ball that next one was. Of course it was Virginia Willette, married twice, divorced twice, searching for another victim.

Verneita Gaines was seen in the next crystal, now married and owner of the beautiful home about which she talked so much.

Max Gaines I saw in the distance. He has a job where his working hours starts when he gets there, because he is never able to get there on time.

At last I saw myself, Joyce Gaines, still working to get that new Ford I've been wanting for so long.

Prophetess
Joyce Gaines

Class History

Twelve years ago, September 1945, there entered into the first grade some forty youngsters to begin their education under the guidance of Mrs. Ollie Garner and Miss Grace Burke.

On through the years they struggled, gaining and losing classmates as they went. Finally, after eight years of work and "play" they made that long awaited goal—high school.

The Freshmen year was a new experience and under the sponsorship of Mr. E. B. Clayton and class officers Jimmy Pilkington, Max Gaines, Dan Gaines, Johnny Gaines, and Fisher Hamer the class journeyed on to another grade.

The Sophomore year was also very successful under their sponsor Mrs. John Martin and class officers Jane Tysor, Jo Ann Fields, Wayne Phillips, Max Gaines and Ruby Elkins.

At last, Juniors! The sponsor Mrs. Ed Roseman and leaders Shelby Bright, Virginia Willett, Jo Ann Fields, Ronald Causey, and Wayne Phillips carried the group through a very prosperous year. There were events to make this year more exciting than any other, the Junior play, "DAMSELS IN DISTRESS," and the long awaited Junior-Senior banquet, "HITCH YOUR WAGON TO A STAR."

Now the group has become Seniors. The leaders chosen for this year are Virginia Caudle, Johnny Gaines, Jane Tysor, Camilla Binkley, and Larry Phillips. Under the class sponsor, Mrs. Sue E. Pulver, the seniors tried to make the Senior play, "THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING," the best as it was their last.

Now the Seniors look forward to that great day—Graduation. Each senior would like to express his thanks to Mr. Clayton, the principal, to all the teachers, parents, and friends for their guidance and help.

You are leaving, and our hearts are grieving. We shall never forget times we've shared with you.

For these few years you have been our friends, so true were you.
We'll ask the best in the world for you, dear ones, true ones, far soon you'll have a new life to lead with many conflicts to face.
We'll think of you of dear Goldston

Reflections

Margaret, may you be a success. I think you are a very nice girl,
a friend
Clayton

Almost a quarter of a century has passed since USECO published its first school annual. As we review those pages of yesteryear, a pleasant thought comes to mind—on some tomorrow this, the nineteen hundred and fifty-seven edition, will take its place in your heart as a pictorial history of the "good ole' days."

We know this book will increase in value with the passing of each year, and are honored to have played a part in recording it.
